CLAIMS COMMITTEE MET

Last Night in City Hall and Pass on Many Bills.

SEVERAL OLD ACCOUNTS SHOW UP

Member Owen Finished His Work Last Night, as Did Commissioner Welch—Mrs.
Sarah Hamill Was Represented by an Attorney, Who Asked Settlement.

Claims committee met last night and passed upon a number of bills. Member Owen was late, but arrived shortly after 8 o'clock, and remarked, in tones of gratitude, that he would probably not have to attend any more meetings of claims committee for sometime, as his term as councilman from the Fourth ward, expires with the meeting this evening.
Commissioner Welch was also present, and was in the same boat as Mr.
Owen, his term of office expiring today. Commissioner-elect Finley was present, and seemed to be observing everything that was going on. An effort was made to have him set up the cigars, but he seemed to know the crowd and refused.

Attorney Will Hill was there and asked that the committee O. K. Mrs.
Sarah Hamill's bill for $67 43, which had been standing for over a year past. The claims committee thought it would do no harm to let it stand a day longer, and will bring the bill before council, when it will be finally disposed of. When the bill for the marshal's salary was taken up the committee kicked, as it had been made out in full, and he had been sick for some time past. Mayor Gilbert stated that the bill was made out that way to save trouble, and that Mr. Wyman would pay the people who had been working for him during his illness.
The committee thought that it would be better to have the trouble, and accordingly the bill was changed. The light bill came in for some modification as usual, all the lights being out for one-half night. The bill of Nora McKeever for $13 for damages, caused by holding the election in her restaurant in November, 1895, came up and was ordered paid. A bill for 15 gal. iron steps caused some comment, one of the committee asking when they began to sell iron steps by the gallon.
Nobody seemed to know just when;
and the bill was placed on the payroll with the rest.

Following is the list of bills that will meet their fate tonight: Purinton & Shawke, $1 65; Samuel Grove, $36; John Ryan, $4 95; William Welch, salary, $50; William Welch, salaries for employees for street work, $310 75;

tionary company, $2 20; W. & company, $72 20; Henry Deidrick, $3; view, $6 70; Union Planing Mill company, $2; Kinsey Plumbing company,

CAME TO GRIEF.

Collided With a Buggy Near the Potters' Bank.

Dick Edmonston has purchased a bicycle and spent yesterday evening spinning about the numerous streets with the air of a Bald or Banker, seemingly unconscious of the dangers that accompany cycling, but endeavoring to show the people just how neatly he could navigate his wheel.
But then pride must have a fall.
While Dick was coasting down Broadway at a terrific speed—he hadn't learned the art of braking—he noticed a horse and buggy coming up Union street, and not knowing which way the vehicle would turn, and unable to stop, trusted to luck and ended up by attempting to remove the obstruction from the street. The vehicle wouldn't move worth a cent, and immediately following a loud crash,

Dick was seen describing a semi-circle in mid-air, coming down with a thud.
He pushed his wheel homeward, thinking cycling was not what it's cracked up to be.

INPRISONED IN A CAR.

A Favorite Dog Locked Up in a Box Car Unintentionally.

The employees of the freight depot have a favorite dog that answers to the name of Jip. On Saturday last this canine was so unfortunate as to get locked up in a car and shipped away. The continued absence of the favorite pup occasioned the employees no little alarm and a search was made at once, which of course was devoid of success. Finally it dawned upon the minds of the dog's masters that they had locked the canine up in a car that had been shipped away in the morning.

A telegram was immediately sent and the unwilling flight of the dog arrested at Conway, by a number of railroad men who opened the car door and secured the imprisoned animal, sending it back to this city on the evening passenger train.

SECOND STREET RUNAWAY.

The Frightened Horse Stopped at the Freight Depot.

A horse attached to a cart took fright on Second street late yesterday afternoon and dashed down the street at a high rate of speed. The animal in its mad flight crossed the railroad track at the foot of Broadway, and then turning in its course it fled precipitately toward the freight depot.
As the horse dashed up to the entrance to the platform, the cart swerved to one side and struck the edge of the platform, badly wrecking the cart and tearing in twain the harness. The animal, freed from its encum-
form, but was stopped by the employees before it succeeded in going a great distance. The horse was uninjured beyond receiving a few scratches. The outfit belonged to Croxall's pottery.

DOCTOR TRACY.

The Kentucky Temperance Evangelist Visits the News Review.

Dr. N. W. Tracy, Kentucky's noted temperance evangelist, made a pleasant call at the News Review office this morning, while on his way to Wellsville to meet his wife. As will be remembered, Doctor Tracy gave a series of temperance lectures in the rink in 1890, and during one of the services some one raised a cry of fire, causing a panic, which resulted in several people being injured. The evangelist will go to New Brighton tonight, where he will give an address on Ben Hur. He begins a series of tabernacle services at Meadville, Pa., on May 20, carrying for this purpose a large tent accommodating 2,000 people. Mr. Tracy speaks kind words for the people of East Liverpool and says he was accorded courteous treatment during his stay here.

WILL RETURN WEDDED.

Two Prominent and Popular Society
People of This City Will Wed.

Early this morning Doctor O. D.
Shay was seen stealthily wending his way towards the depot. Diligent inquiry was made and the fact made known that the genial and popular young physician was bound for Chicago, where he will meet his fiancée, Miss Etta Worcester, of this city, who has been visiting relatives at that place, and there be united in marriage. They will return home immediately, and upon their arrival the happy couple will be met by many friends, who will wish them much joy and marital bliss. The bride is an estimable young lady and a general favorite with all who know her. The News Review joins in congratula-tion.

FIRE IN WELLSVILLE.

A Small Livery Stable Burns to the Ground.

This morning, about 4:45 o'clock, the livery stable of Runyon & Riblett was discovered to be on fire, and before the fire department reach the scene the flames had gained such headway that it was impossible to check their course. The efforts of the fire company were used to keep the flames from spreading to adjoining buildings.
The stable was a small structure, situated on Eighteenth street, and is a total loss. The building and contents were insured to their full value, which was about $1,500.

Home From California.

George C. Thompson, who has just returned home from California, reports an exceedingly pleasant trip through the Golden state.

DIDN'T HAVE A QUORUM

Therefore the Board of Education Did Not Meet.

NEW BOARD ORGANIZE MONDAY

A Number of Ballots That Were Cast in the Fourth Ward and Were Thrown Out by the Election Judges, Shown by Secretary Nellis.

There were not enough members of the board of education present last night to constitute a quorum and no meeting was held.

The statement made by a local paper a few evenings since that the new board would organize last night was incorrect. The law specifies that the new board shall reorganize on the third Monday in April, and this mandate will be observed to the letter.
Certificates will be sent out some time this week, officially notifying the new members of the board of their election. The only business that was to be transacted last night was the disposition of a few bills, and now they will probably go over to the new board for settlement.

It is possible that a special session may be called this week to confer with Agent Cladin, of the Smead Heating and Ventilating company, who expects to complete the work of remedying the defective heating system. It is the desire of both the Smead representative and the present board to take final action in regard to disposing of this bothersome question.

Whether the alteration and repairing that has been done will do away with the evil that has existed is a question that cannot be decided until cold weather comes again. It has been stated by several members of the board that it would have been a wise act if the building had been heated by hot water. Secretary Nellis showed a large number of school board tickets that had been thrown out in the Fourth ward by the judges of the recent election. They were ballots illegitimately cast. Some of the slips were not counted, owing to the slips not being torn off at the proper place, and others were thrown out for being incorrectly marked. One ardent and warm supporter of Smith and Taylor, who resided in the Fourth ward, cast his ballot for those two gentlemen, in that ward, presuming that he was helping along their cause. A number of other specimens of ballots voted showed a woeful ignorance as to the proper way of marking the same; evidently many women, who had never voted before, had vague and crude ideas of the way to perform their new privilege.

DREDGE BOAT HERE

And Will Commence Work on the Third Pier at Once.

The dredge boat, Western, arrived here from Pittsburgh last night, towed by the steamer Ford City. The preliminary work on the construction of the third pier will be commenced at once. The dredge boat has located the spot to be operated upon and the dredging will be pushed through with all possible haste.

The construction force at work on the piers was increased this morning and everything bids fair to be accomplished with quickness and dispatch.
Contractor Schrader is sanguine of having the entire work completed before the expiration of the allotted time.
The concrete work is progressing nicely.

DAN DISPOSED OF.

He Wanted to Stand Trial But Later Reconsidered His Intentions.

Dan Cochran was arraigned before the Mayor this morning and fined $7.
Daniel was unhampered with any of the filthy lucre, and therefore will be permitted to work out his fine by doing odd jobs about the city hall and also working with the street commissioner's force.

A local paper was a little premature in its disposition of Daniels' case.
They also fined him a little heavier than did Mayor Gilbert.
Bradley, the Vanport man in the coop, is also out of funds and will go hand in hand with Daniel in wiping out the indebtedness marked against him.

WILL BE WEDDED.

Invitations are Out For the Fisher-Moore Nuptials.

Invitations are out for the marriage of Otis G. Fisher, a prominent young man of Cleveland, and Miss Anna Moore, the accomplished daughter of E. D. Moore, "book-keeper at the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles pottery.
The ceremony will take place at 12 o'clock noon on Tuesday, April 28, at the First Presbyterian church. A large concourse of friends and relatives have been invited. The bride and groom will reside at 203 Belle avenue, Cleveland.

STILL THEY COME.

It Looks As If McKinley Will Have a Walk Over.

Not only has there been a break here and there in the solid delegation that Mr. Reed was expected to get from New England, but it is now becoming apparent that a majority of the Republicans in that section of the country are for Mr. McKinley.—Cleveland Leader.

One thing is certain, and that is that about all the enthusiasm that has the appearance of spontaneity seems to be with the McKinley shouters. There is no denying that Mc-Kinley in some way is possessed of that indefinable quality called personal magnetism, which was possessed in such a high degree by Henry Clay, Stephen A. Douglas and James G.
Blaine.—Indianapolis News.

The chances are that McKinley will be the first choice of the majority of delegates and the second choice of four-fifths of the remainder. It seems to be a time when the great political managers, such as Platt and Quay, are powerless to prevent the will of the people.—Utica Press.

"Where does McKinley stand?" asks a New York cotemporary. McKinley doesn't stand. He is on the move, and there is a very general opinion that he is moving toward the White House.
—Kansas City Journal.

Democrats and anti-McKinley men are anxious to see Harrison in the presidential race. Why? * * * *
Down in Tennessee they're so enthusiastic for McKinley that the contests for the honor of being delegates to the St. Louis convention far outstrip elections in interest.—Youngstown Telegram.

Michigan Republicans believe in protection and reciprocity. Her delegates will vote for the candidate who most nearly represent these powerful issues before the people. Hence they are for McKinley enthusiastically.— Ohio State Journal.

Mr. Chauncey Depew is going to canvass the country for Morton in a Pullman car. But his man hasn't much of a pull.—Cleveland World.

The advertised reaction in the Mc-Kinley movement has not come. On the other hand the Ohio man has increased his lead until at this time there does not seem to be a possibility of defeating him at St. Louis. On the contrary, every day it becomes more certain that he will be nominated on the first ballot.—Toledo Blade.

After a most careful tour of inquiries among Republican senators and representatives, the correspondent of the Eagle can say with fairness and accuracy that there is conclusive evidence of a crystallization of sentiment in behalf of ex-Governor Mc-Kinley. This is more especially the case among members from the western and southern states, though there are McKinley outcroppings in the middle and eastern states. All are agreed that the strength McKinley has in the race is due to the fact that he is considered the best representative of the protective principle.— Brooklyn Eagle, (Dem.)

SERVED WITH COCKERILL.

A Veteran of This City Was in Cockerill's Regiment.

Isaac Burlingame, of Wucherer's addition was a veteran of the late war and served under John A. Cockerill, the well known newspaper man who died in Cairo, Egypt, a few days ago. Mr. Burlingame says that the newspapers did not give the correct initials of the deceased colonel. He says that Cockerill assumed charge of the O. V. I., 24th regiment, upon the death of Colonel F. C. Jones. He remained with the regiment, as its leader, until the expiration of his term of service which occurred June 17, 1864. Colonel Cockerill was a gallant soldier and a general favorite with all his men.

AN ELECTION.

Republicans Win a Victory at East Palestine.

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS REVIEW.
EAST PALESTINE, April 14.—An election was held here yesterday for school board and was intensely interesting from start to finish, the women turning out in large bodies. There were two tickets in the field, Republican and Citizen, and the result was a victory for the former. Sebring, Rep., ran 196 votes ahead of his ticket, and Gould Rep., had 472 to his credit.
The Citizen candidates, Smith and Mascher received 359 and 340 votes respectively. The total vote of the village was 827.

But Not Until Sheriff Gill Had Started

TO TEAR UP THE TRESTLE

A Force of Men Were Hired by Him and the Trestle Would Have Been Removed Had Not Supt. Andrews Persuaded Lawson to Postpone Operations.

The case of Charles C. Lawson, of Wellsville, versus the East Liverpool and Wellsville street railway company, which had been pending in the courts since November, 1892, and which was finally disposed of last Saturday by the supreme court issuing a mandate to carry out the verdict of the circuit and common pleas court, giving Lawson the possession of his property, on which the trestle in that village was erected without permission, assumed definite proportions yesterday afternoon.

Sheriff Gill arrived in this city yesterday morning and after selling the Harrison property in Sunnyside started for Wellsville for the purpose of removing the trestle. When he arrived in that village he engaged a half dozen men and started for the scene of action where work was begun at once to remove the trestle. Superintendent Andrews was aware of their intentions, and going to Lawson asked him to stop operations until he could go to Cleveland and see Secretary Davies. This Lawson agreed to do, and accordingly he notified Sheriff Gill and his coterie of workers to take a rest until the superintendent could go to Cleveland and find out what the company were going to do about the matter.

Andrews took the afternoon train for Cleveland, and a telegram was received by Lawson shortly after his arrival there not to do anything toward tearing down the trestle, as the street car company were willing to settle the matter. This morning when he arrived home he went to see Lawson, and it is presumed that the owner received the price asked, as he notified Sheriff Gill that his services would not be needed.

The street car company are beginning to think by this time that the old adage, which says misfortunes never comes singly, apply to them, as they certainly have had a great amount of trouble in the past few months.

THE MCKINLEY TRIP.

A Large Number Will Go From Lisbon to St. Louis.

Word was received by the committee having in charge the St. Louis trip of the McKinley club that at least 25 persons would accompany them from Lisbon. The committee say that there will be at least 20 outsiders for every East Liverpool man that will accompany them, but if all the people would come up and take berths that had promised to they would have enough to make a whole train load. The time limit will expire on May 1st, and if the names of the people who want to go on the trip are not in by that time they will get left.

BODIES REMOVED

From the Old Cemetery and Shipped to Butler this Morning.

The remains of three bodies that have been buried in the old cemetery for a number of years, were exhumed yesterday and this morning shipped to Butler, Pa. The remains are those of Peter Troutman, his wife and son.
Mrs. Troutman was a sister to John Agner, of Fourth street. Her husband resided here for a number of years and was a well known citizen. A branch of the family living at Butler had the remains removed to that city.

Prohibits Will Meet.

The Prohibition county convention will be held in the Ferguson & Hill building tonight, and the county executive committee will be reorganized.
Eleven delegates will be selected to the state convention, which will be held at Findlay on the 21st and 22d of this month. Other business of importance will be transacted, although no county ticket will be nominated at this convention, the county nomination convention being held later on.

Council Tonight.

There will be no appointments made at the meeting of council tonight, in order that the council committees and the mayor may have a chance to confer with each other before the nominations are made. It is also probable that the subject of a paid fire department will not be brought up tonight, but will be left until some future time.

Collided With a Buggy Near the Potters' Ground.

Dick Edmonston has purchased a bicycle and spent yesterday evening spinning about the numerous streets with the air of a Bald or Banker, seemingly unconscious of the dangers that accompany cycling, but endeavoring to show the people just how neatly he could navigate his wheel. But then pride must have a fall. While Dick was coasting down Broadway at a terrific speed—he hadn't learned the art of braking—he noticed a horse and buggy coming up Union street, and not knowing which way the vehicle would turn, and unable to stop, trusted to luck and ended up by attempting to remove the obstruction from the street. The vehicle wouldn't move worth a cent, and immediately following a loud crash, Dick was seen describing a semi-circle in mid-air, coming down with a thud. He pushed his wheel homeward, thinking cycling was not what it's cracked up to be.

INPRISONED IN A CAR.

A Favorite Dog Locked Up in a Box Car Unintentionally.

The employes of the freight depot have a favorite dog that answers to the name of Jip. On Saturday last this canine was so unfortunate as to get locked up in a car and shipped away. The continued absence of the favorite pup occasioned the employes no little alarm and a search was made at once, which of course was devoid of success. Finally it dawned upon the minds of the dog's masters that they had locked the canine up in a car that had been shipped away in the morning.

A telegram was immediately sent and the unwilling flight of the dog arrested at Conway, by a number of railroad men who opened the car door and secured the imprisoned animal, sending it back to this city on the evening passenger train.

SECOND STREET RUNAWAY.

The Frightened Horse Stopped at the Freight Depot.

A horse attached to a cart took fright on Second street late yesterday afternoon and dashed down the street at a high rate of speed. The animal in its mad flight crossed the railroad track at the foot of Broadway, and then turning in its course it fled precipitately toward the freight depot. As the horse dashed up to the entrance to the platform, the cart swerved to one side and struck the edge of the platform, badly wrecking the cart and tearing in twain the harness. The animal, freed from its encumbrances, continued on across the platform, but was stopped by the employes before it succeeded in going a great distance. The horse was uninjured beyond receiving a few scratches. The outfit belonged to Croxall's pottery.

DOCTOR TRACY.

The Kentucky Temperance Evangelist Visits the News Review.

Dr. N. W. Tracy, Kentucky's noted temperance evangelist, made a pleasant call at the News Review office this morning, while on his way to Wellsville to meet his wife. As will be remembered, Doctor Tracy gave a series of temperance lectures in the rink in 1890, and during one of the services some one raised a cry of fire, causing a panic, which resulted in several people being injured. The evangelist will go to New Brighton tonight, where he will give an address on Ben Hur. He begins a series of tabernacle services at Meadville, Pa., on May 20, carrying for this purpose a large tent accommodating 2,000 people. Mr. Tracy speaks kind words for the people of East Liverpool and says he was accorded courteous treatment during his stay here.

WILL RETURN WEDDED.

Two Prominent and Popular Society People of This City Will Wed.

Early this morning Doctor O. D. Shay was seen stealthily wending his way towards the depot. Diligent inquiry was made and the fact made known that the genial and popular young physician was bound for Chicago, where he will meet his fiancée, Miss Etta Worcester, of this city, who has been visiting relatives at that place, and there be united in marriage. They will return home immediately, and upon their arrival the happy couple will be met by many friends, who will wish them much joy and marital bliss. The bride is an estimable young lady and a general favorite with all who know her. The News Review joins in congratulation.

A Small Livery Stable Burns to the Ground.

This morning, about 4:45 o'clock, the livery stable of Runyon & Riblett was discovered to be on fire, and before the fire department reach the scene the flames had gained such headway that it was impossible to check their course. The efforts of the fire company were used to keep the flames from spreading to adjoining buildings. The stable was a small structure, situated on Eighteenth street, and is a total loss. The building and contents were insured to their full value, which was about $1,500.

Home From California.

George C. Thompson, who has just returned home from California, reports an exceedingly pleasant trip through the Golden state.

DIDN'T HAVE A QUORUM

Therefore the Board of Education Did Not Meet.

NEW BOARD ORGANIZE MONDAY

A Number of Ballots That Were Cast in the Fourth Ward and Were Thrown Out by the Election Judges, Shown by Secretary Nellis.

There were not enough members of the board of education present last night to constitute a quorum and no meeting was held.

The statement made by a local paper a few evenings since that the new board would organize last night was incorrect. The law specifies that the new board shall reorganize on the third Monday in April, and this mandate will be observed to the letter. Certificates will be sent out some time this week, officially notifying the new members of the board of their election. The only business that was to be transacted last night was the disposition of a few bills, and now they will probably go over to the new board for settlement.

It is possible that a special session may be called this week to confer with Agent Cladin, of the Smead Heating and Ventilating company, who expects to complete the work of remedying the defective heating system. It is the desire of both the Smead representative and the present board to take final action in regard to disposing of this bothersome question.

Whether the alteration and repairing that has been done will do away with the evil that has existed is a question that cannot be decided until cold weather comes again. It has been stated by several members of the board that it would have been a wise act if the building had been heated by hot water. Secretary Nellis showed a large number of school board tickets that had been thrown out in the Fourth ward by the judges of the recent election. They were ballots illegitimately cast. Some of the tickets were not counted, owing to the slips not being torn off at the proper place, and others were thrown out for being incorrectly marked. One ardent and warm supporter of Smith and Taylor, who resided in the Fourth ward, cast his ballot for those two gentlemen, in that ward, presuming that he was helping along their cause. A number of other specimens of ballots voted showed a woeful ignorance as to the proper way of marking the same; evidently many women, who had never voted before, had vague and crude ideas of the way to perform their new privilege.

DREDGE BOAT HERE

And Will Commence Work on the Third Pier at Once.

The dredge boat, Western, arrived here from Pittsburgh last night, towed by the steamer Ford City. The preliminary work on the construction of the third pier will be commenced at once. The dredge boat has located the spot to be operated upon and the dredging will be pushed through with all possible haste.

The construction force at work on the piers was increased this morning and everything bids fair to be accomplished with quickness and dispatch. Contractor Schrader is sanguine of having the entire work completed before the expiration of the allotted time. The concrete work is progressing nicely.

DAN DISPOSED OF.

He Wanted to Stand Trial But Later Reconsidered His Intentions.

Dan Cochran was arraigned before the Mayor this morning and fined $7. Daniel was unhampered with any of the filthy lucre, and therefore will be permitted to work out his due by doing odd jobs about the city hall and also working with the street commissioner's force.

A local paper was a little premature in its disposition of Daniels' case. They also fined him a little heavier than did Mayor Gilbert.

Bradley, the Vaport man in the coop, is also out of funds and will go hand in hand with Daniel in wiping out the indebtedness marked against him.

WILL BE WEDDED.

Invitations are Out For the Fisher-Moore Nuptials.

Invitations are out for the marriage of Otis G. Fisher, a prominent young man of Cleveland, and Miss Anna Moore, the accomplished daughter of E. D. Moore, book-keeper at the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles pottery. The ceremony will take place at 12 o'clock noon on Tuesday, April 28, at the First Presbyterian church. A large concourse of friends and relatives have been invited. The bride and groom will reside at 203 Belle avenue, Cleveland.

STILL THEY COME.

It Looks As If McKinley Will Have a Walk Over.

Not only has there been a break here and there in the solid delegation that Mr. Reed was expected to get from New England, but it is now becoming apparent that a majority of the Republicans in that section of the country are for Mr. McKinley.—Cleveland Leader.

One thing is certain, and that is that about all the enthusiasm that has the appearance of spontaneity seems to be with the McKinley shouters. There is no denying that McKinley in some way is possessed of that indefinable quality called personal magnetism, which was possessed in such a high degree by Henry Clay, Stephen A. Douglas and James G. Blaine.—Indianapolis News.

The chances are that McKinley will be the first choice of the majority of delegates and the second choice of four-fifths of the remainder. It seems to be a time when the great political managers, such as Platt and Quay, are powerless to prevent the will of the people.—Utica Press.

"Where does McKinley stand?" asks a New York contemporary. McKinley doesn't stand. He is on the move, and there is a very general opinion that he is moving toward the White House.—Kansas City Journal.

Democrats and anti-McKinley men are anxious to see Harrison in the presidential race. Why? * * * * Down in Tennessee they're so enthusiastic for McKinley that the contests for the honor of being delegates to the St. Louis convention far outstrip elections in interest.—Youngstown Telegram.

Michigan Republicans believe in protection and reciprocity. Her delegates will vote for the candidate who most nearly represent these powerful issues before the people. Hence they are for McKinley enthusiastically.—Ohio State Journal.

Mr. Chauncey Depew is going to canvass the country for Morton in a Pullman car. But his man hasn't much of a pull.—Cleveland World.

The advertised reaction in the McKinley movement has not come. On the other hand the Ohio man has increased his lead until at this time there does not seem to be a possibility of defeating him at St. Louis. On the contrary, every day it becomes more certain that he will be nominated on the first ballot.—Toledo Blade.

After a most careful tour of inquiries among Republican senators and representatives, the correspondent of the Eagle can say with fairness and accuracy that there is conclusive evidence of a crystallization of sentiment in behalf of ex-Governor McKinley. This is more especially the case among members from the western and southern states, though there are McKinley outcroppings in the middle and eastern states. All are agreed that the strength McKinley has in the race is due to the fact that he is considered the best representative of the protective principle.—Brooklyn Eagle, (Dem.)

SERVED WITH COCKERILL.

A Veteran of This City Was in Cockerill's Regiment.

Isaac Burlingame, of Wucherer's addition was a veteran of the late war and served under John A. Cockerill, the well known newspaper man who died in Cairo, Egypt, a few days ago. Mr. Burlingame says that the newspapers did not give the correct initials of the deceased colonel. He says that Cockerill assumed charge of the O. V. I., 24th regiment, upon the death of Colonel F. C. Jones. He remained with the regiment, as its leader, until the expiration of his term of service which occurred June 17, 1864. Colonel Cockerill was a gallant soldier and a general favorite with all his men.

AN ELECTION.

Republicans Win a Victory at East Palestine.

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS REVIEW.
EAST PALESTINE, April 14.—An election was held here yesterday for school board and was intensely interesting from start to finish, the women turning out in large bodies. There were two tickets in the field, Republican and Citizen, and the result was a victory for the former. Sebring, Rep., ran 196 votes ahead of his ticket, and Gould Rep., had 472 to his credit. The Citizen candidates, Smith and Mascher received 359 and 340 votes respectively. The total vote of the village was 827.

But Not Until Sheriff Gill Had Started

A Force of Men Were Hired by Him and the Trestle Would Have Been Removed Had Not Supt. Andrews Persuaded Lawson to Postpone Operations.

The case of Charles C. Lawson, of Wellsville, versus the East Liverpool and Wellsville street railway company, which had been pending in the courts since November, 1892, and which was finally disposed of last Saturday by the supreme court issuing a mandate to carry out the verdict of the circuit and common pleas court, giving Lawson the possession of his property, on which the trestle in that village was erected without permission, assumed definite proportions yesterday afternoon.

Sheriff Gill arrived in this city yesterday morning and after selling the Harrison property in Sunnyside started for Wellsville for the purpose of removing the trestle. When he arrived at that village he engaged a half dozen men and started for the scene of action where work was begun at once to remove the trestle. Superintendent Andrews was aware of their intentions, and going to Lawson asked him to stop operations until he could go to Cleveland and see Secretary Davies. This Lawson agreed to do, and accordingly he notified Sheriff Gill and his entourage of workers to take a rest until the superintendent could go to Cleveland and find out what the company were going to do about the matter.

Andrews took the afternoon train for Cleveland, and a telegram was received by Lawson shortly after his arrival there not to do anything toward tearing down the trestle, as the street car company were willing to settle the matter. This morning when he arrived home he went to see Lawson, and it is presumed that the owner received the price asked, as he notified Sheriff Gill that his services would not be needed.

The street car company are beginning to think by this time that the old adage, which says misfortunes never comes singly, apply to them, as they certainly have had a great amount of trouble in the past few months.

THE M'KINLEY TRIP.

A Large Number Will Go From Lisbon to St. Louis.

Word was received by the committee having in charge the St. Louis trip of the McKinley club that at least 25 persons would accompany them from Lisbon. The committee say that there will be at least two outsiders for every East Liverpool man that will accompany them, but if all the people would come up and take berths that had promised to they would have enough to make a whole train load. The time limit will expire on May 1st, and if the names of the people who want to go on the trip are not in by that time they will get left.

BODIES REMOVED

From the Old Cemetery and Shipped to Butler this Morning.

The remains of three bodies that have been buried in the old cemetery for a number of years, were exhumed yesterday and this morning shipped to Butler, Pa. The remains are those of Peter Troutman, his wife and son. Mrs. Troutman was a sister to John Agner, of Fourth street. Her husband resided here for a number of years and was a well known citizen. A branch of the family living at Butler had the remains removed to that city.

Prohibs Will Meet.

The Prohibition county convention will be held in the Ferguson & Hill building tonight, and the county executive committee will be reorganized. Eleven delegates will be selected to the state convention, which will be held at Findlay on the 21st and 22d of this month. Other business of importance will be transacted, although no county ticket will be nominated at this convention, the county nominating convention being held later on.

Council Tonight.

There will be no appointments made at the meeting of council tonight, in order that the council committees and the mayor may have a chance to confer with each other before the nominations are made. It is also probable that the subject of a paid fire department will not be brought up tonight, but will be left until some future time.

For President,
WILLIAM MCKINLEY,

"TURN ON THE LIGHT."

Cowardly and unprincipled men in this city, defeated in their unholy aim, are boasting that they will "turn on the light" upon the manager of the NEWS REVIEW, and horrify the people of East Liverpool with the exposures made. To one and all of these creatures we bid outspoken and manly defiance, having the backing of a clean conscience. And we advise the fellows who are doing this boasting to have a care, as we know their history, and are now in possession of keys which fit to a nicety the keyholes of the closets which contain the bones of secrets which will not appear savory or sweet-smelling if given to the light of day and public observation. "A word to the wise." Forbearance sometimes ceases to be a virtue.

DR. LEE'S ADDRESS.

Rev. John Lloyd Lee's address, delivered on Sunday night last, at the First Presbyterian church, in defense of the Bible, was a masterly one and is the subject of general commendation. The NEWS REVIEW had intended publishing it in detail, but circumstances prevented. The reverend gentleman hurled anathemas at those who have lately been the instruments, in the hands of the devil, in circulating vile leaflets and pictures, issued by the American Secular union, with the aim of sneering at the Bible, at the observance of the Sabbath, at the Saviour of the world, and at God himself. The circulars spoken of are vile beyond belief and breathe the spirit of anarchy and lawlessness. Reverend Lee did not say that parties in East Liverpool had nothing to do with the infamous articles circulated respecting the Bible, as incorrectly reported elsewhere, but did say that he did not believe the defeated candidates had anything to do with such a scurrilous attack upon the Book of books. Reverend Lee further intimated that there are some very objectionable features in our city, which will receive his attention at some future time. Doctor Lee's manly stand against evil and lawlessness has made him many friends in East Liverpool, and he has the backing of his Master in all such good work.

FALSEHOODS NAILED.

We ask our readers to bear with us for this one issue. Our enemies are resorting to methods beneath common manhood and only worthy of ghouls or graveyard desecrators, and we shall expose them to the public in a manner which will cause their weapons, boom-erang-like, to recoil and injure themselves. Yesterday, a well-known Christian gentleman, whose word is absolutely unimpeachable, and who is loved and honored in this city, came into the NEWS REVIEW office and said: "Captain Palmer, I am your friend, and I want to talk to you very plainly; can I do so?" He was given the assurance that he would not offend, and proceeded with his speech as follows: "I have been told, on what should be good authority, that you are an ingrate; that the men who brought you to this city and who did everything for you, have been treated by you in the most unbecoming and ungrateful manner, and I want you, if you will be so kind, knowing me to be your friend, to give me the plain truth respecting the matter." Loving the man who addressed us, and honoring him for coming direct to headquarters for information, we said to him: "My dear sir, the parties you mention did not know I was coming to this busy city; they never gave me a penny; they never aided me in any way; on the contrary, knowing me to be a staunch unionist, in favor of a fair days wage for a fair days work, they have ever and always done everything they could against me, in every possible, underhanded, ungentlemanly and unmanly manner, even going to men high in position, who were my friends, and slandering me in the foulest manner, and I have good reason to know this. When the NEWS REVIEW was an absolute failure, and its stock was going begging upon the market, Mr. Al McDonald went to his brother, Mr. James E. McDonald, the latter then owning two-thirds of the paper, and people all over the land owning the other third, and told him that if he could secure Harry Palmer, of McKeesport, Allegheny county, as business manager, Mr. Palmer would pull the paper out of financial difficulties and put the NEWS REVIEW upon a paying basis. Mr. James E. McDonald wrote to the manager of this paper, and Messrs. Palmer & Morris met Mr. McDonald at the Seventh avenue hotel, Pittsburg, and talked business with him, and the result was that Palmer & Morris came to East Liverpool, met Mr. James E. McDonald in his rooms in the First National Bank building, paid him a snug sum of money in hand and gave him satisfactory paper for the rest, and that paper has since been replaced with solid cash. The next thing to do was to buy out the interest of the other party connected at that time with the paper, and that was speedily done, for the best of business reasons. A few manufacturers of East Liverpool have aided the NEWS REVIEW by giving it work connected with our fine job department, and these manufacturers state that we have given them value received in every instance. The merchants and business men of the city have stood by us nobly, and the workmen and workingwomen of East Liverpool have made it possible for the paper to win out, with flattering success. My dear sir, we return sincere thanks to our numerous friends, admire and respect our open enemies, who differ with us in a fair and manly way, and absolutely despise and hold in contempt those fellows who resort to trickery, low cunning and lying, confident that Right will win and that all good men and true women will stand by any one who is acting within the law, for the enforcement of the law, and in the defense of purity and truth." Turn on the light.

THE CLEVER WOMAN.

Two Kinds of Cleverness, but Only One That Really Pays.

"I wish I were clever."

The woman was charmingly dimpled, wore a Felix gown, was the mistress of a luxurious establishment, and was dispensing tea to afternoon callers in cups of priceless porcelain.

"Women who write" had been the subject on the tapis, and the remark was a delicate compliment to the woman to whom she handed the tea. She was a successful writer—successful to the extent of making a good income as the fruit of unwearied industry. She had never known the delights of diamonds or her own carriage or a box at the opera. She sometimes spent a hard earned $5 for a drive, but there was neither luxury in the carriage nor swiftness in the steeds, and she was conscious all through the drive that when she went back to the office she would write something about the country in spring or the blossoms of fall foliage and flowers with which the suburban resident could decorate his house and table.

If she took a $2 seat in the opera house, she rarely lost herself completely in the music, as she would have liked to do, because skeletons of paragraphs on theater hats and theater manners, on lovers who make love in the stalls as well as on the stage, and a thousand other things for the next day's paper flitted through her mind. She never had a Felix gown; on the contrary, she walked ten blocks and climbed seven stories to find a dressmaker who would make, though at the same time mar, her one gown for $10. Her modest house was pretty, and she was even quite famous for her petticoat suppers, at which one sometimes met eminent and always delightful people, but only herself and her one maid knew at what cost of perspiring brow and smudged fingers and aching back those dainty little dishes were evolved.

So there was almost reverence in her tones as she replied:

"My dear, you are the clever woman; you are far more clever than George Eliot. The really smart woman is not the one who makes her own daily bread, even though there be a Nesselrode pudding thrown in now and then. It is she who, without raising her hand, can cause all this luxury to be laid at her pretty satin shod feet. It is like eating a Delmonico dinner and lamenting that you are not the chef who cooked it. Not the woman who works, but she who gets all there is in life without working, is the really clever woman."

"May there not be two kinds of cleverness?" said the woman who came to make her actions—New York Herald.

PENNSY'S GREAT DAY.

ROBERTS THE CHIEF FIGURE.

He Gave Receptions to Officials of the Line and Many Distinguished Men—A Public Meeting, at Which Gov. Hastings, Choate and Roberts Spoke.

PHILADELPHIA, April 14.—The fiftieth anniversary of the incorporation of the Pennsylvania Railroad company was celebrated in an elaborate manner in this city. The jubilee began formally at noon, when President Roberts and the directors of the company held a reception in the assembly room of the big office building of the company. Here the officers of the great corporation from all over the country paid their respects to the head of the road and the men who direct its property. This ceremony was followed by a reception in the president's room and the boardroom, to which about 800 men distinguished in finance, railroads, politics and the learned professions had been invited. At this function an elaborate luncheon was served and a speechmaking of an informal character was indulged in.

Besides the local celebrities at this reception there were present John D. Archbold of the Standard Oil company, New York; S. W. Allerton, Chicago; John Bindley, president Pittsburg chamber of commerce; Oliver W. Barnes, New York; J. P. Barr, editor Pittsburg Post; Joseph G. Butler, director Pittsburg, Youngstown and Ashtabula railroad; Dumont Clarke, president American Exchange National bank, New York; Andrew Carnegie, Pittsburg; John D. Crimmins, New York; Eugene Delano, New York; William P. DeArmitt, president New York and Cleveland Gas Coal company, and others.

The big event of the celebration was the public meeting at the Academy of Music. The opening address was delivered by President Roberts. The orator of the day was Joseph H. Choate of New York.

President Roberts in his address furnished statistics showing the remarkable development of the road since its incorporation in 1846. He paid a tribute to the fidelity and devotion to duty of the 97,000 employees of the company and prophesied a glorious future for the road should their harmonious relations continue. Governor Hastings and Mayor Warwick followed President Roberts, and they spoke at length on the progress of the state and city as a result of the facilities afforded by railroads, and the Pennsylvania company in particular. Frederick Fraley, the veteran Philadelphia, now approaching nearly a century of life, prepared a paper, which was read, covering the history of railroads for some years prior to their inception in this state. J. Twining Brooks, identified with the western branches of the company, gave some interesting reminiscences of the early difficulties of railroading. This was followed by the address of Jos. H. Choate of New York.

JAPAN'S GREAT GENERAL.

He Is In New York and Will Receive Honored Attention.

NEW YORK, April 14.—The most distinguished guest at the Waldorf hotel is the Marquis Yamagata, Japan's field marshal and minister of war, whose recent services gained for his country such a decisive victory from China. General Yamagata arrived at the Grand Central depot on a special car.

General Yamagata is on his way to Russia as the special ambassador of the Japanese empire to attend the coronation exercises of the czar at St. Petersburg. One of the reasons why the general is making his journey to Russia by way of the United States is to express the feelings of his government for the friendly regard in which the United States has regarded the Japanese.

It is likely that while the general is in New York he will be tendered the freedom of the city, and probably be entertained at a public banquet by leading Japanese merchants.

At Albany General Yamagata was received by Governor Morton and staff and inspected the state capitol.

OUR DEAR FRIEND, THE GENERAL.

An Entirely Correct Report From Cleveland Regarding Booth's Intentions.

CLEVELAND, April 14.—Staff Captain Parker, in charge of the Salvation Army in Cleveland, said that Ballington Booth was unjust or mistaken in declaring that General Booth was opposed to America or American ways.

Trying to Shield the General.

To Solve Irish Land Problem.

LONDON, April 14.—Mr. Gerald Balfour, chief secretary for Ireland, has introduced the new Irish land bill in the house of commons. It is of much wider scope than that of Mr. John Morley, who was chief secretary for Ireland in the late Liberal government, and is upon the principle of purchase by the occupying tenant, being the ultimate solution of the land question.

Infernal Machine For Roosevelt.

NEW YORK, April 14.—A package addressed to "Theodore Roosevelt, police headquarters," and marked "medicine," has been brought to the general post-office by someone of the many collectors of mail from downtown boxes. It proved to be an infernal machine, but could not have done much damage.

Walling's Trial May 5.

CINCINNATI, April 14.—The attorney for Alonzo Walling, indicted with Scott Jackson for the murder of Pearl Bryan, has been notified to be ready to proceed with the trial May 5. This indicates that Judge Helm expects to finish the trial of Scott Jackson in two weeks. The prosecution will not call either of the men as a witness against the other, being confident that they already have enough evidence to convict both.

Providing that in cases of prosecutions of officers or members of the militia for acts done in the suppression of a riot, where the trial results in acquittal, the county in which the prosecution was commenced, shall pay the cost of such proceeding, and compensate the defendant for time lost and attorney fees.

Bills passed in the house were:

Making it burglary to break into a schoolhouse, with intent to cook or lodge for the night.

West Virginian Interfered With His Servant Girl's Love Affair.

GRAFTON, W. Va., April 14.—Clarence E. Lowther, a prominent citizen of Davis, 40 years old, with a family, was the victim of an assault on the street, near his home, which may result in his death. Seven years ago Mrs. Lowther took a Hungarian girl, 9 years old, to assist with the housework. Her name was so difficult to pronounce that everyone called her Mary Lowther, and she adopted the name herself.

A few months ago John Cobelasko, a Pole, became Mary's company. Mrs. Lowther had a talk with her husband about Cobelasko's attentions to Mary. Mr. Lowther broached the subject to Mary, telling her she had a good home, which she was about to trade for something possibly not so good.

Mary seemed impressed with this view of the case, and the next time John called, talked it over with him. John was furious, and made threats, which resulted in his being ordered not to return to the house. The other night Lowther was attacked on a dark street and stabbed 20 times. He will likely die.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., TUESDAY, APRIL 11.

For President,
WILLIAM MCKINLEY,

"TURN ON THE LIGHT."

Cowardly and unprincipled men in this city, defeated in their unholy aim, are boasting that they will "turn on the light" upon the manager of the News Review, and horrify the people of East Liverpool with the exposures made. To one and all of these creatures we bid outspoken and manly defiance, having the backing of a clean conscience. And we advise the fellows who are doing this boasting to have a care, as we know their history, and are now in possession of keys which fit to a nicety the keyholes of the closets which contain the bones of secrets which will not appear savory or sweet-smelling if given to the light of day and public observation. "A word to the wise." Forbearance sometimes ceases to be a virtue.

DR. LEE'S ADDRESS.

Rev. John Lloyd Lee's address, delivered on Sunday night last, at the First Presbyterian church, in defense of the Bible, was a masterly one and is the subject of general commendation. The News Review had intended publishing it in detail, but circumstances prevented. The reverend gentleman hurled anathemas at those who have lately been the instruments, in the hands of the devil, in circulating vile leaflets and pictures, issued by the American Secular union, with the aim of sneering at the Bible, at the observance of the Sabbath, at the Saviour of the world, and at God himself. The circulars spoken of are vile beyond belief and breathe the spirit of anarchy and lawlessness. Reverend Lee did not say that parties in East Liverpool had nothing to do with the infamous articles circulated respecting the Bible, as incorrectly reported elsewhere, but did say that he did not believe the defeated candidates had anything to do with such a scurrilous attack upon the Book of books. Reverend Lee further intimated that there are some very objectionable features in our city, which will receive his attention at some future time. Doctor Lee's manly stand against evil and lawlessness has made him many friends in East Liverpool, and he has the backing of his Master in all such good work.

FALSEHOODS NAILED.

We ask our readers to bear with us for this one issue. Our enemies are resorting to methods beneath common manhood and only worthy of ghouls or graveyard desecrators, and we shall expose them to the public in a manner which will cause their weapons, boomerang-like, to recoil and injure themselves. Yesterday, a well-known Christian gentleman, whose word is absolutely unimpeachable, and who is loved and honored in this city, came into the News Review office and said: "Captain Palmer, I am your friend, and I want to talk to you very plainly; can I do so?" He was given the assurance that he would not offend, and proceeded with his speech as follows: "I have been told, on what should be good authority, that you are an ingrate; that the men who brought you to this city and who did everything for you, have been treated by you in the most unbecoming and ungrateful manner, and I want you, if you will be so kind, knowing me to be your friend, to give me the plain truth respecting the matter." Loving the man who addressed us, and honoring him for coming direct to headquarters for information, we said to him: "My dear sir, the parties you mention did not know I was coming to this busy city; they never gave me a penny; they never aided me in any way; on the contrary, knowing me to be a staunch unionist, in favor of a fair days wage for a fair days work, they have ever and always done everything they could against me, in every possible, underhanded, ungentlemanly and unmanly manner, even going to men high in position, who were my friends, and slandering me in the foulest manner, and I have good reason to know this. When the News Review was an absolute failure, and its stock was going begging upon the market, Mr. Al McDonald went to his brother, Mr. James E. McDonald, the latter then owing two-thirds of the paper, and people all over the land owing the other third, and told him that if he could secure Harry Palmer, of McKeesport, Allegheny county, as business manager, Mr. Palmer would pull the paper out of financial difficulties and put the News Review upon a paying basis. Mr. James E. McDonald wrote to the manager of this paper, and Messrs. Palmer & Morris met Mr. McDonald at the Seventh avenue hotel, Pittsburg, and talked business with him, and the result was that Palmer & Morris came to East Liverpool, met Mr. James E. McDonald in his rooms in the First National Bank building, paid him a snug sum of money in hand and gave him satisfactory paper for the rest, and that paper has since been replaced with solid cash. The next thing to do was to buy out the interest of the other party connected at that time with the paper, and that was speedily done, for the best of business reasons. A few manufacturers of East Liverpool have aided the News Review by giving it work connected with our shoe department, and these manufacturers state that we have given them value received in every instance. The merchants and business men of the city have stood by us nobly, and the workmen and workingwomen of East Liverpool have made it possible for the paper to win out, with flattering success. My dear sir, we return sincere thanks to our numerous friends, admire and respect our open enemies, who differ with us in a fair and manly way, and absolutely despise and hold in contempt those fellows who resort to trickery, low cunning and lying, confident that Right will win and that all good men and true women will stand by any one who is acting within the law, for the enforcement of the law, and in the defense of purity and truth." Turn on the light.

THE CLEVER WOMAN.

Two Kinds of Cleverness, but Only One That Really Pays.

The woman was charmingly dimpled, wore a Felix gown, was the mistress of a luxurious establishment, and was dispensing tea to afternoon callers in cups of priceless faience.

"Women who write" had been the subject on the tapis, and the remark was a delicate compliment to the woman to whom she handed the tea. She was a successful writer—successful to the extent of making a good income as the fruit of unwearied industry. She had never known the delights of diamonds or her own carriage or a box at the opera. She sometimes spent a hard earned $5 for a drive, but there was neither luxury in the carriage nor swiftness in the steeds, and she was conscious all through the drive that when she went back to the office she would write something about the country in spring or the flossam of fall foliage and flowers with which the suburban resident could decorate his house and table.

If she took a $2 seat in the opera house, she rarely lost herself completely in the music, as she would have liked to do, because skeletons of paragraphs on theater hats and theater manners, on lovers who make love in the stalls as well as on the stage, and a thousand other things for the next day's paper flitted through her mind. She never had a Felix gown; on the contrary, she walked ten blocks and climbed seven stories to find a dressmaker who would make, though at the same time mar, her one gown for $10. Her modest house was pretty, and she was even quite famous for her petticoat seners, at which one sometimes met eminent and always delightful people, but only herself and her one maid knew at what cost of perspiring brow and smudged fingers and aching back those dainty little dishes were evolved.

"My dear, you are the clever woman; you are far more clever than George Eliot. The really smart woman is not the one who makes her own daily bread, even though there be a Nesselrode pudding thrown in now and then. It is she who, without raising her hand, can cause all this luxury to be laid at her pretty satin shod feet. It is like eating a Delmonico dinner and lamenting that you are not the chef who cooked it. Not the woman who works, but she who gets all there is in life without working, is the really clever woman."

"May there not be two kinds of cleverness?" said the woman who came to make her address. —New York Herald.

PENNSY'S GREAT DAY.

ROBERTS THE CHIEF FIGURE.

PHILADELPHIA, April 14.—The fiftieth anniversary of the incorporation of the Pennsylvania Railroad company was celebrated in an elaborate manner in this city. The jubilee began formally at noon, when President Roberts and the directors of the company held a reception in the assembly room of the big office building of the company. Here the officers of the great corporation from all over the country paid their respects to the head of the road and the men who direct its property. This ceremony was followed by a reception in the president's room and the boardroom, to which about 800 men distinguished in finance, railroads, politics and the learned professions had been invited. At this function an elaborate luncheon was served an speechmaking of an informal character was indulged in.

Besides the local celebrities at this reception there were present John D. Archbold of the Standard Oil company, New York; S. W. Allerton, Chicago; John Binkley, president Pittsburg chamber of commerce; Oliver W. Barnes, New York; J. E. Barr, editor Pittsburg Post; Joseph G. Butler, director Pittsburg Youngstown and Ashtabula railroad; Dumont Clarke, president American Exchange National bank, New York; Andrew Carnegie, Pittsburg; John D. Crimmins, New York; Eugene Delano, New York; William P. DeArmitt, president New York and Cleveland Gas Coal company, and others.

The big event of the celebration was the public meeting at the Academy of Music. The opening address was delivered by President Roberts. The orator of the day was Joseph H. Choate of New York.

President Roberts in his address furnished statistics showing the remarkable development of the road since its incorporation in 1846. He paid a tribute to the fidelity and devotion to duty of the 97,000 employees of the company and prophesied a glorious future for the road should their harmonious relations continue.

Governor Hastings and Mayor Warwick followed President Roberts, and they spoke at length on the progress of the state and city as a result of the facilities afforded by railroads, and the Pennsylvania company in particular. Frederick Fraley, the veteran Philadelphia, now approaching nearly a century of life, prepared a paper, which was read, covering the history of railroads for some years prior to their inception in this state. J. T. Wing Brooks, identified with the western branches of the company, gave some interesting reminiscences of the early difficulties of railroading. This was followed by the address of Jos. H. Choate of New York.

JAPAN'S GREAT GENERAL.

He Is In New York and Will Receive Honored Attention.

NEW YORK, April 14.—The most distinguished guest at the Waldorf hotel is the Marquis Yamagata, Japan's field marshal and minister of war, whose recent services gained for his country such a decisive victory from China. General Yamagata arrived at the Grand Central depot on a special car.

General Yamagata is on his way to Russia as the special ambassador of the Japanese empire to attend the coronation exercises of the czar at St. Petersburg. One of the reasons why the general is making his journey to Russia by way of the United States is to express the feelings of his government for the friendly regard in which the United States has regarded the Japanese.

It is likely that while the general is in New York he will be tendered the freedom of the city, and probably be entertained at a public banquet by leading Japanese merchants.

A ROW OVER BONDS.

A New Yorker Takes Action Against Secretary Carlisle.

THE PETITIONS FOR A MANDAMUS

To Compel the Delivery of $4,500,000 to Him, Which Were Awarded a Second Time to Others—The Complainant Claims Discrimination.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—William Graves of New York City has filed in the district supreme court a petition for mandamus to compel Secretary of the Treasury Carlisle to deliver to him bonds to the amount of $4,500,000 of the recent issue of 30-year 4 per cents. The petition sets out that he bid for this amount of bonds at $115,389.10 on Feb. 4 last and complied with all the regulations; that his bid was once accepted; that the original notice of allotment was not sent him as to other bidders, and though requested, no allowance was made by the department for the time lost by the negligent act of the department in misdirecting the original allotment notice.

The contention is made that the refusal to deliver these bonds allotted to him in New York, as required, was a mere subterfuge to prevent the petitioner and those who might associate with him from carrying out the terms of the bid and completing the purchase of the bonds, and that the requirement that the petitioner deposit the gold in the sub-treasury at New York and transfer the deposit certificate to the treasury department here was a requirement not exacted of other successful bidders, a great hardship to him and an invasion of his right to have the bond delivery made at New York.

After claiming that the refusal of the department to accept payment for the bonds allotted to him after the date fixed for the payment of an installment, is an exercise of arbitrary power and which is unwarranted by law, the petition asks that the secretary of the treasury be restrained from delivering to J. Pierpont Morgan & Co., or any other persons the $4,500,000 bonds allotted to Graves. Judge Cole issued an order requiring Secretary Carlisle to appear on Saturday, April 20, and show cause why the mandamus asked by Graves should not be issued.

There Democrats Met and Renewed Their Vows.

PROMINENT STATESMEN PRESENT.

Vice President Stevenson, Herbert, Wilson and Harmon, Besides Senators and Congressmen With the Party—Black, Russ and Daniel Made Speeches.

MONTICELLO, Va., April 14.—The one hundred and fifty-third anniversary of Thomas Jefferson's birthday was fittingly observed here, where he lived and died, by a gathering of a large number of prominent Democrats from all sections of the country. The distinguished guests included Vice President Stevenson, Secretary Herbert, Postmaster General Wilson, Attorney General Harmon, ex-Governor Russell of Massachusetts, Chauncey F. Black and Lawrence Gardner, president and secretary respectively of the national association of Democratic clubs and nearly two score of senators and representatives, besides a number of national committeemen. The party left Washington in a special train and on arriving in Charlottesville proceeded at once to Monticello, about two miles distant from the town, where they were welcomed by Mr. Jefferson M. Levy, the present owner of the estate.

The exercises were held upon the broad lawns, upon which were assembled several hundred people who had come from the surrounding towns and farms. Three addresses were delivered—the first by Chauncey F. Black, the second by ex-Governor Russell, and the third by ex-Senator Daniel of Virginia. The greatest interest attached to the speeches of the two latter, Mr. Russell standing squarely on a "sound money" platform and Senator Daniel combatting his position with a free silver argument.

Ex-Governor Russell declared that the secret of Jefferson's power and leadership was in his steadfastness to inherent principle, his courage, his resolute leadership, which, he said, have guided the latest, as they did the first of the Democratic administrations, that with vigor and patriotism have made dominant the wishes, the rights and the welfare of the whole people. Said he:

"Whatever the storm, whatever the gusts of passion or of prejudice, however threatening the clouds of panic and disaster which have hung over all nations, our president has kept the rudder true. To no political flaw has he trimmed sail, in no stress has he lost courage or abandoned principle. There is inspiration for us in the leadership of Jefferson and Cleveland. It nerves us to stand fast to principle, to put aside expediency and compromise, and with courage and fidelity to meet all pending issues."

"So shall we merit and win success and hold the confidence of the country as we have in the past. We need not fear defeat. We met it in '88 and then went forth united and strengthened to triumphant victory. We should fear the discredit of sacrificing principle to expediency, or of turning aside from the safe course which Jefferson established. Let our good Democratic ship avoid the passing flaws which would drift her hither and thither, content to wait the powerful and steady gale which will carry the nation upon her true course."

CULLOM AS SECOND CHOICE.

His Boomers Urging This Point in Illinois.

The Cullom club of this city has sent out a circular letter to all the delegates elected to the state convention, asking them to vote down in the convention, any instructions to the delegates to the national convention, so that, if, after the first ballot in the national convention, there is no choice, Illinois may be in condition to make favorable terms.

A ROW OVER BONDS.

A New Yorker Takes Action Against Secretary Carlisle.

THE PETITIONS FOR A MANDAMUS

To Compel the Delivery of $4,500,000 to Him, Which Were Awarded a Second Time to Others—The Complainant Claims Discrimination.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—William Graves of New York city has filed in the district supreme court a petition for mandamus to compel Secretary of the Treasury Carlisle to deliver to him bonds to the amount of $4,500,000 of the recent issue of 30-year 4 per cents. The petition sets out that he bid for this amount of bonds at $115.3391 on Feb. 4 last and complied with all the regulations; that his bid was once accepted; that the original notice of allotment was not sent him as to other bidders, and though requested, no allowance was made by the department for the time lost by the negligent act of the department in misdirecting the original allotment notice.

The contention is made that the refusal to deliver these bonds allotted to him in New York, as required, was a mere subterfuge to prevent the petitioner and those who might associate with him from carrying out the terms of the bid and completing the purchase of the bonds, and that the requirement that the petitioner deposit the gold in the sub-treasury at New York and transfer the deposit certificate to the treasury department here was a requirement not exacted of other successful bidders, a great hardship to him and an invasion of his right to have the bond delivery made at New York.

After claiming that the refusal of the department to accept payment for the bonds allotted to him after the date fixed for the payment of an installment, is an exercise of arbitrary power and which is unwarranted by law, the petition asks that the secretary of the treasury be restrained from delivering to J. Pierpont Morgan & Co., or any other persons the $4,500,000 bonds allotted to Graves.

Judge Cole issued an order requiring Secretary Carlisle to appear on Saturday, April 25, and show cause why the mandamus asked by Graves should not be issued.

GOLD CAN BE SPECIFIED.

United States Supreme Court's Important Decision Regarding Bonds.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—In the United States supreme court an opinion has been handed down in the case of Woodruff, trustee, vs the state of Mississippi, appealed from the supreme court of that state. The case involved the invalidity of bonds issued by the levee board of the state for the improvement of the Mississippi river, which had been questioned because the bonds were made payable in gold.

The supreme court of the state had decided that the bonds were void, because the law did not authorize the payment of the bonds in any particular kind of money. The opinion was delivered by Chief Justice Fuller. The opinion of the court below was reversed and the case remanded.

The Americans were mostly young men and came from various states to this place, whence they were transported by water to Cape Florida, the place of rendezvous. The Cubans have been storing arms and ammunition on Cape Florida for three weeks. It is said that 4,000 rifles, 500,000 cartridges, five Gatling guns and a great number of pistols and machetes were stored at the rendezvous.

LISBON NEWS.

What is Being Done in the Courts at the County Capital.
Special to the News Review.

LISBON, April 14.—William Koch, of the wholesale firm of Rogge & Koch, has sued for the appointment of a receiver for the Elmer S. Kelly firm of Wellsville. Kelly is indebted to this firm in the sum of $146.96, and it is alleged that several months ago in contemplation of an insolvency certain property was transferred by him to B. E. Shelman, in trust for a favored few of his creditors, who were related to him. His entire stock was turned over to Shelman for this purpose, who has since remained in pretended possession, although there has been no visible change in the business, as Kelly still remains in charge. The court is asked to declare the conveyance to be void and also declare the property to be for the benefit of all creditors. The hearing of the case has been certified by Judge McCarty, Judge Smith having been interested as an attorney for some of the parties to the suit.

Proceedings were commenced in common pleas court against Charles E. Garside to recover on promissory notes which were given by him to William Wernet some time ago. The notes aggregate $471.88 and are secured by a mortgage on two tracts of land in Hanover township, containing 100 acres. A foreclosure is asked. Judge Smith opened court this morning for the transaction of the final business of the term, and unless something unforeseen develops, the adjournment this evening will be for the term.

The motion for a new trial in the $2,000 damage case, brought by Julia Spence against the village of Lisbon for injuries received by a fall, caused by an opening in front of the Buckeye State office last winter, was argued before the court and sustained. The case on trial was two months ago decided against Mrs. Spence, and the new hearing was granted in view of gross negligence on the part of the officials.

The alimony case of Carrie Kirkbride versus Louis Kirkbride, of Salem, was settled out of court on Saturday night for $200 in money and a division of the household effects.

A motion for alimony, pending the hearing of a divorce action recently filed by Mrs. Susan Hoffman, of New Waterford, against Leurgous Hoffman, was argued by Judge Billingsley and the court ordered the defendant to pay Mrs. Hoffman the sum of $50 within 10 days, and $5 per week thereafter until further orders.

A marriage license was issued to John Fitch and Emma Bell, of East Liverpool.

BASEBALL.

Matters of Interest to Lovers of the National Game.

Jack Darrab, manager of the Wheeling ball club, is in the city and reports matters concerning his team in good shape. They have at last secured ground, which will be put in shape by the first of the month. Alf Shaw, formerly of this city, who played with the Twin City team last season, will be signed. Mr. Delaplane will be in the city today to look after more young blood for his crack team.

Winnie Mercer will not be worked in the box until the thermometer takes an upward tendency.

Manager Kuntzsch, of the Syracuse team, is highly pleased with George Carey, and thinks he is a gentleman both on and off the field, and a brilliant player.

The local diamond is being thronged daily with large crowds who are desirous of improving their playing.

The Campground Tombstones would like a game with the Crackjacks when the season opens. Charles Macrum can be seen on the matter.

The Crackjacks have received part of their outfit, including bats, masks, caps, shoes, etc. Their suits will be finished some time next week, and they will then be ready to meet all comers.

Those who never read the advertisements in their newspapers miss more than they presume. Jonathan Kenison, of Bolan, Worth company, Iowa, who had been troubled with rheumatism in his back, arms and shoulders, read an item in his paper about how a prominent German citizen of Ft. Madison had been cured. He procured the same medicine, and to use his own words: "It cured me right up." He also says: "A neighbor and his wife were both sick in bed with rheumatism. Their boy was over to my house and said they were so bad he had to do the cooking. I told him of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and how it had cured me; he got a bottle and it cured them up in a week. Fifty cent bottles for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist."

Posted Notices.

Yesterday morning as the employees of an uptown pottery arrived at their work they were surprised to find that a number of notices had been posted throughout the entire plant informing all employees that they must not leave their work during the day to go to schools and drink. The employees are indignant, and claim that a reflection and an undesirable imputation had been cast upon them by the establishment of this new rule. They say that they do not drink during working hours.

Our better halves say they could not keep house without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is used in more than half the homes in Leeds. Sims Bros., Leeds, Iowa. This shows the extent in which that remedy is held where it has been sold for years and is well known. Mothers have learned that there is nothing so good for colds, croup and whooping cough, that it cures these ailments quickly and permanently, and that it is pleasant and safe for children to take. Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

Taken under medical direction, in connection with the right medicine, they will help effect a cure. No women who suffer at all from so-called "female weakness" should attempt athletics of any sort. She should first put herself into possession of strong and hearty health by taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. After she is thoroughly well, exercise and diversion will help to keep her well. The cure should come first. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is designed and recommended for only the one thing. It acts directly upon one set of organs. No matter what is the matter with them, it will cure it. It will not cure anything else. It is a wholesome tonic, an invigorating nerve, or nerve-food as well as a healing medicine, and thousands of perfectly well women have found that by taking it regularly during the period of pregnancy, the danger and pain of parturition were much lessened, and in many cases, almost entirely obviated.

In every American household, there should be a copy of Dr. Pierce's great work, "Common Sense Medical Advice," 1008 pages, illustrated. One copy free to any address on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay for mailing only. Write to the Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

After the Balls.

Albert Geisz is at present engaged in looking for someone—he knows not whom. The pursuer carries two Winchester's and the pursued will carry the contents when the pursuit is at an end. Last night Albert forgot to lock the doors of his pool room. This morning when he arrived the doors were ajar and there was not a pool or billiard ball in sight. There was a badly scared young man inquiring around the corner of Sixth street and Broadway for a few minutes and then he returned and found the balls in the pockets. But Albert says he wasn't alarmed for a single moment—of course he knew where to find the balls.

This attraction, with its wealth of scenery, will be at the Grand on April 16, and a big sale is predicted.

It will be an agreeable surprise to persons subject to attacks of bilious colic to learn that prompt relief may be had by taking Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhoea remedy. In many instances the attack may be prevented by taking this remedy as soon as the first symptoms of the disease appear. Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

THE ADVANCED WOMAN.

She may stand upon the corner in her bloomers if she chooses. She can smoke a cigarette in public, too; She may think up shocking thoughts and dedicate them to the muses—In fact, do anything that's truly new. But do not yet rejoice. Oh, creatures masculine, Nor think creation's altered in its plan. For she always wants to do Things she's not expected to. And she doesn't care to do them when she can. A foremost place in politics—she'll have it if she pleases; She'll worry over bargains in appropriation bills. And decorate the gavel which untutored man now seizes. With gilt and pretty ribbons till with joy the eye it fills. She may do it all in style For a very little while. But the ultimate result we calmly scan. For she always wants to do Things she's not expected to. And she doesn't care to do them when she can. —Washington Star.

THE GOODY SWORD.

The Egyptians Gave It the Name Fifty Centuries Ago.

Half a hundred centuries ago the Egyptians gave to the sword its name. Since those old days the history of the trenchant blade, stained with blood and defaced by the scars of battle though it is, holds much of the glory, the poetry and the chivalry of the cruel game of war.

A friend whose fidelity never wavered and whose power never failed, it is not surprising that men endowed the sword not only with human attributes, but with the might and majesty of the gods themselves. The old legends abound in tales of its magical powers. How the divine armors strove continually to excel some rival in the forging of a blade of a temper so delicate that it might cut a thread with the same ease with which it struck a head from the body, or hewed through heavy metal armor, was a favorite subject of the old Teutonic and Viking tales.

These legendary blades bore characteristic names, by which they were invariably known: Graysteel, Wader Through Sorrow and Millstone Biter were swords of wide renown, and we all remember how Arthur of the Round Table took "Excalibur, the sword that rose from out the bosom of the lake." Caesar's sword was called Crocea Mors; Charlemagne's Joyeuse played no small part in the setting up of the great Frankish empire. Many a bold captain went down before El Tizona, wielded by the relentless hand of the Cid.

The Japanese, whose civilization was old before ours began, have produced beautiful examples of the swordmaker's art. The Japanese nobleman carried his swords as the insignia of his rank. He wore one on each side, thrust into the folds of his sash. These swords have been handed down as heirlooms from father to son, and it was not unusual for families of ancient lineage to have as many as 1,500 of them—marvels of costly and artistic workmanship—in their possession. The scabbards are richly lacquered and bound about with a silken cord in a curious pattern. The blade is curved, and the round dagger is pierced to carry a small guard. This guard, called a tsuba, is decorated with curious designs, and so great is the ingenuity of the Japanese metal workers that among the thousands of swords they have produced it is impossible to find two guards exactly alike. They are prized so highly by collectors that large sums of money have been paid frequently for an antique sword, only that it might be ruthlessly torn apart to secure the guard.—Mary Stuart McKinney in St. Nicholas.

Absentminded.

It is said that the extempore playing of the great Beethoven was marvelous, but he was entirely without the coolness and self possession required by a performer who wishes to render written compositions with accuracy and finish. The same fault was found with his conducting the orchestra; even before his deafness he often confused the players by his sudden gestures.

At one time he was playing one of his own beautiful concertos for piano and orchestra. During a long passage by the orchestra, while the piano was silent, he forgot his position and fancying himself conductor for the moment he threw out his arms at a certain chord, knocking both the candles off the piano. They were picked up, but when the passage was repeated and the loud chord recurred he forgot himself again, and the accident happened for the second time.

The audience, in spite of their great admiration and respect for the master musician, were convulsed with merriment, which so disgusted Beethoven that several strings of the unoffending piano suffered the consequences of his irritation, which expended itself in a prodigious thumping of the keys.—Youth's Companion.

Tough Eating.

Those who have partaken of peacock declare that gorgeous bird to be decidedly tough eating, while it is said of the swan that the fact of its ever having been a familiar dish speaks highly in favor of ancient English cutlery. Moreover, it should not be forgotten that when husbands' and bours' heads were as common as sirloins and saddles now are there were scarcely any vegetables to eat with them.

Her Choice.

Mother—Jane, you must choose between the two. Will you marry the man who loves you or the man who can dress you?

Daughter—Mamma, as an up to date girl, I must reply to your question that, although love is a very desirable thing, clothes are an absolute necessity.—London Tit-Bits.

IN THE WAY HE SHOULD GO.
"Give me a kiss," she pleading said.
He heard, unmoved, her warm sweet suing.
Although to her he was not wed,
Nor had he even come a-wooing.
"Give me a kiss," Her lips in shape
To tempt a saint did thus beseech him,
While he seemed planning an escape
To some place where she could not reach him.
"Give me a kiss, just one, I pray."
Her fond insistence ill did serve her.
He looked askance and moved away,
—Scared and disgusted with her fervor.
"Give me a kiss." Each coaxing word
But helped anew to fright and pain him.
Because he was her brand new bird,
And she was starting in to train him.

LISBON NEWS.

What is Being Done in the Courts at the County Capital.

LISBON, April 14.—William Koch, of the wholesale firm of Rogge & Koch, has sued for the appointment of a receiver for the Elmer S. Kelly firm of Wellsville. Kelly is indebted to this firm in the sum of $146.96, and it is alleged that several months ago in contemplation of an insolvency certain property was transferred by him to B. E. Shelman, in trust for a favored few of his creditors, who were related to him. His entire stock was turned over to Shelman for this purpose, who has since remained in pretended possession, although there has been no visible change in the business, as Kelly still remains in charge.
The court is asked to declare the conveyance to be void and also declare the property to be for the benefit of all creditors. The hearing of the case has been certified by Judge McCarty, Judge Smith having been interested as an attorney for some of the parties to the suit.

Proceedings were commenced in common pleas court against Charles E. Garside to recover on promissory notes which was given by him to William Wernet some time ago. The notes aggregate $471.88 and are secured by a mortgage on two tracts of land in Hanover township, containing 100 acres. A foreclosure is asked.

Judge Smith opened court this morning for the transaction of the final business of the term, and unless something unforeseen develops, the adjournment this evening will be for the term.

The motion for a new trial in the $2,000 damage case, brought by Julia Spence against the village of Lisbon for injuries received by a fall, caused by an opening in front of the Buckeye State office last winter, was argued before the court and sustained. The case on trial was two months ago decided against Mrs. Spence, and the new hearing was granted in view of gross negligence on the part of the officials.

The alimony case of Carrie Kirk-bride versus Louis Kirkbride, of Salem, was settled out of court on Saturday night for $200 in money and a division of the household effects.

A motion for alimony, pending the hearing of a divorce action recently filed by Mrs. Susan Hoffman, of New Waterford, against Lyeurgus Hoffman, was argued by Judge Billingsley and the court ordered the defendant to pay Mrs. Hoffman the sum of $50 within 10 days, and $5 per week thereafter until further orders.

A marriage license was issued to John Fritch and Emma Bell, of East Liverpool.

Matters of Interest to Lovers of the National Game.

Jack Darrab, manager of the Wheeling ball club, is in the city and reports matters concerning his team in good shape. They have at last secured ground, which will be put in shape by the first of the month. Alf Shaw, formerly of this city, who played with the Twin City team last season, will be signed. Mr. Delaplaine will be in the city today to look after more young blood for his crack team.

Winnie Mercer will not be worked in the box until the thermometer takes an upward tendency.

Manager Kuntzsch, of the Syracuse team, is highly pleased with George Carey, and thinks he is a gentleman both on and off the field, and a brilliant player.

The local diamond is being thronged daily with large crowds who are desirous of improving their playing.

The Campground Tombstones would like a game with the Crackjacks when the season opens. Charles Macrum can be seen on the matter.

The Crackjacks have received part of their outfit, including bats, masks, caps, shoes, etc. Their suits will be finished some time next week, and they will then be ready to meet all comers.

Those who never read the advertisements in their newspapers miss more than they presume. Jonathan Kenison, of Bolan, Worth company, Iowa, who had been troubled with rheumatism in his back, arms and shoulders, read an item in his paper about how a prominent German citizen of Ft. Madison had been cured.
He procured the same medicine, and to use his own words: "It cured me right up." He also says: "A neighbor and his wife were both sick in bed with rheumatism. Their boy was over to my house and said they were so bad he had to do the cooking. I told him of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and how it had cured me; he got a bottle and it cured them up in a week. Fifty cent bottles for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist."

In Session.

The White Granite compact is meeting in Actuary McClave's office this afternoon, and a rumor is current that the concern will dissolve, although this could not be verified.
Everything is clothed in mystery.

concert company are 25 and 35 cents. Children under 12 years of age, 10 cents.

Posted Notices.

Yesterday morning as the employees of an uptown pottery arrived at their work they were surprised to find that a number of notices had been posted throughout the entire plant informing all employees that they must not leave their work during the day to go to saloons and drink. The employees are indignant, and claim that a reflection and an undesirable imputation had been cast upon them by the establishment of this new rule. They say that they do not drink during working hours.

Our better halves say they could not keep house without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is used in more than half the homes in Leeds. Sims Bros., Leeds, Iowa. This shows the esteem in which that remedy is held where it has been sold for years and is well known. Mothers have learned that there is nothing so good for colds, croup and whooping cough, that it cures these ailments quickly and permanently, and that it is pleasant and safe for children to take. Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by A.
H. Bulger, drugist.

Among the Sick.

W. T. Martin is able to be out again

Taken under medical direction, in connection with the right medicine, they will help effect a cure. No women who suffer at all from so-called "female weakness" should attempt athletics of any sort. She should first put herself into possession of strong and hearty health by taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.
After she is thoroughly well, exercise and diversion will help to keep her well. The cure should come first. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is designed and recommended for only the one thing. It acts directly upon one set of organs. No matter what is the matter with them, it will cure it. It will not cure anything else. It is a wholesome tonic, an invigorating nerve, or nerve-food as well as a healing medicine, and thousands of perfectly well women have found that by taking it regularly during the period of pregnancy, the danger and pain of par-turbation were much lessened, and in many cases, almost entirely obviated.

In every American household, there should be a copy of Dr. Pierce's great work, "Common Sense Medical Advice," 128 pages, illustrated.

After the Balls.

Albert Geisz is at present engaged in looking for someone—he know not whom. The pursuer carries two Winchester's and the pursued will carry the contents when the pursuit is at an end. Last night Albert forgot to lock the doors of his pool room. This morning when he arrived the doors were ajar and there was not a pool or billiard ball in sight. There was a badly scared young man inquiring around the corner of Sixth street and Broadway for a few minutes and then he returned and found the balls in the pockets. But Albert says he wasn't alarmed for a single moment—of course he knew where to find the balls.

E. Crites.

Mr. E. Crites, the well known and popular paper hanger, painter and general contractor, has opened up headquarters at No. 275 East Market street, next to Quick's grocery store, where all orders left will receive reasonable. All work guaranteed.

The Midnight Special.

East Liverpool will shortly have the pleasure of witnessing one of the best scenic productions on the road: "The Midnight Special" abounds with pretty features and thrilling situations and press and public are liberal in their praise of this excellent company.
This attraction, with its wealth of scenery, will be at the Grand on April 16, and a big sale is predicted.

It will be an agreeable surprise to persons subject to attacks of bilious colic to learn that prompt relief may be had by taking Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhoea remedy. In many instances the attack may be prevented by taking this remedy as soon as the first symptoms of the disease appear. Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

THE ADVANCED WOMAN.

She may stand upon the corner in her bloom-ers if she chooses;
She can smoke a cigarette in public, too;
She may think up shocking thoughts and deviate them to the muse;
In fact, do anything that's truly new.
But do not yet repine, Oh, creatures masculine,
Nor think creation's altered in its plan.
For she always wants to do Things she's not expected to,
And she doesn't care to do them when she can.
A foremost place in politics—she'll have it if she pleases;
She'll worry over largains in appropriation bills
And decorate the gavel which untutored man now seizes
With gilt and pretty ribbons till with joy the eye it fills.
She may do it all in style
For a very little while,
But the ultimate result we calmly scan.
For she always wants to do Things she's not expected to,

THE GOODLY SWORD.

The Egyptians Gave It the Name Fifty Centuries Ago.

Half a hundred centuries ago the Egyptians gave to the sword its name.
Since those old days the history of the treacherous blade, stained with blood and defaced by the scars of battle though it is, holds much of the glory, the poetry and the chivalry of the cruel game of war.

A friend whose fidelity never wavered and whose power never failed, it is not surprising that men endowed the sword not only with human attributes, but with the might and majesty of the gods themselves. The old legends abound in tales of its magical powers. How the divine armors strove continually to excel some rival in the forging of a blade of a temper so delicate that it might cut a thread with the same ease with which it struck a head from the body, or hewed through heavy metal armor, was a favorite subject of the old Tentonic and viking tales.

These legendary blades bore characteristic names, by which they were invariably known: Graysteel, Wader Through Sorrow and Millstone Biter were swords of wide renown, and we all remember how Arthur of the Round Table took "Excalibur, the sword that rose from out the bosom of the lake."
Caesar's sword was called Crocea Mors; Charlemagne's Joyeuse played no small part in the setting up of the great Frankish empire. Many a bold captain went down before El Tizona, wielded by the relentless hand of the Cid.

The Japanese, whose civilization was old before ours began, have produced beautiful examples of the swordmaker's art. The Japanese nobleman carried his swords as the insignia of his rank. He wore one on each side, thrust into the folds of his sash.

These swords have been handed down as heirlooms from father to son, and it was not unusual for families of ancient lineage to have as many as 1,500 of them—marvels of costly and artistic workmanship—in their possession. The scabbards are richly lacquered and bound about with a silken cord in a curious pattern. The blade is curved, and the round guard is pierced to carry a small dagger. This guard, called a tsuba, is decorated with curious designs, and so great is the ingenuity of the Japanese metal workers that among the thousands of swords they have produced it is impossible to find two guards exactly alike. They are prized so highly by collectors that large sums of money have been paid frequently for an antique sword, only that it might be ruthlessly torn apart to secure the guard.—
Mary Stuart McKinney in St. Nicholas.

Absentminded.

It is said that the extempore playing of the great Beethoven was marvelous, but he was entirely without the coolness and self possession required by a performer who wishes to render written compositions with accuracy and finish.

The same fault was found with his conducting the orchestra; even before his deafness he often confused the players by his sudden gestures.

At one time he was playing one of his own beautiful concertos for piano and orchestra. During a long passage by the orchestra, while the piano was silent, he forgot his position and fancying himself conductor for the moment he threw out his arms at a certain chord, knocking both the candles off the piano.

They were picked up, but when the passage was repeated and the loud chord recurred he forgot himself again, and the accident happened for the second time.

The audience, in spite of their great admiration and respect for the master musician, were convulsed with merriment, which so disgusted Beethoven that several strings of the unoffending piano suffered the consequences of his irritation, which expended itself in a prodigious thumping of the keys.—

Tough Eating.

Those who have partaken of peacock declare that gorgeous bird to be decidedly tough eating, while it is said of the swan that the fact of its ever having been a familiar dish speaks highly in favor of ancient English cutlery. Moreover, it should not be forgotten that when hussards' and boars' heads were as common as sirloins and saddles now are there were scarcely any vegetables to eat with them.

Her Choice.

Mother—Jane, you must choose between the two. Will you marry the man who loves you or the man who can dress you?

Daughter—Mamma, as an up to date girl, I must reply to your question that, although love is a very desirable thing, clothes are an absolute necessity.—London Tit-Bits.

ful mycrauths" droops in the day, being apparently about to die, but revives as evening comes on.

IN THE WAY HE SHOULD GO.
"Give me a kiss," she pleading said.
He heard, unmoved, her warm sweet suing.
Although to her he was not wed,
Nor had he even come a wooing.
"Give me a kiss," Her lips in shape
To tempt a saint did thus beseech him,
While he seemed planning an escape
To some place where she could not reach him.
"Give me a kiss, just one, I pray."
Her fond insistence ill did serve her.
He looked askance and moved away,
Scared and disgusted with her fervor.
"Give me a kiss," Each coaxing word
But helped anew to 'fright and pain him,
Because he was her brand new bird.
And she was starting in to train him.
